The Post - Dispatch Tenders European Trip to Miss Callie A. Pritchett,

And the Watch and Chain to the Fourth Teacher, Miss Anna B. Boyd.

The Three Winning Lady Teachers in the "Post - Dispatch" Popular Election wered With Floral Tributes To-Day by Their Pupils and Friends-Flora Ships for Mrs. Fauning and Miss Frederick-The Official Notification Sent to the Winners-Replies Received-Probability That the Three Lady Teachers Will Make the Trip Together.

The lady teachers who won the trips to Europe in the POST-DISPATCH election were to-day notified officially of the result. Letters signed by the editor of the Post-DISPATCH were sent to Miss Madge Frederick and Mrs. Rose W. Fanning telling them that they had taken first and second place in the they would be ready to start for Europe, in order that proper arrangements about the steamers and other details could be made as on as possible.

To Miss Callie A. Pritchett, winner of the third prize, the following letter, signed by the editor of the Post-Disparch, was forwarded

THE POST-DISPATCH, 513 OLIVE STREET, ST. LOUIS, June 2, 1890. Miss Callie A. Pritchett:

Miss Callie A. Pritchell:

Dear Maddan—It is my pleasant duly to notify you that the official count of the ballots in the teachers' contest shows that you have received the third largest number of yotes under the conditions of the contest. This would entitle you to the watch and chain offered by the Mermodd Jaccard Jeweiry Co.

But the management of the Post-Dispatch feels under a special obligation to you and to your friends for the active part you took in the contest, taking the lead at the start and keeping its olong. The success of the contest is largely due to the popular interest created by you, and if it is acceptable to you the Post-Dispatch will ask your permission to change the terms of the contest so as to include three trips to Enrope and to make the watch and chain the fourth prize.

Tou may accept this as to the Post-Dispatch in a contest which has succeeded be post-Dispatch in a contest which has succeeded beyond all anticipation, and also as a recognition of your popularity as a teacher, attested by the number and character of the yotes given for you.

With my sincere congratulations on your success. teacher, attested of the activities of your success with my sincere congratulations on your success and the thanks of the Post-Disparch to yourself and your many friends, I am, etc.

MISS PRITCHETT'S REPLY.
To the letter above, tendering her a European trip, Miss Pritchett replied as follows:

MRS. PANNING'S REPLY.
To the official notification Mrs. Fanning replied as follows:
PESTALOZZI SCHOOL, ST. LOUIS, June 2, 1890.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
Your kind letter giving official confirmation of this candidate's election in the teachers' contest is received with grateful thanks.
For obvious reasons I've never declared my political standing. To tell the truth, I've been 'on the fence' during this whole campaign, but I now return sincer thanks to the Post-Dispatch and to the votors of all parties—Democrats, Republicans, Prohibitionists, Labor Party, Farmers' Alliance, etc. They were all in favor of ''voting early and often.'

FROM MISS FREDERICK.

Miss Frederick sent word that she desired a little time to make answer as to when she would go. This delay was probably caused in part by her desire to go with Mrs. Fanning, mentioned below. When she knows what is the fact, that Mrs. Fanning is desirous they should go together, she will be ready. Miss Pritchett is also desirous of going with the Pritchett is also desirous of going with the others. They want her to go, so that the probability is that all will sail together during the last weeks of this month.

FLOWERS FOR MISS FREDRICK.

There was a decided sensation at 'the Stoddard School when Miss Madge Frederick arrived there this morning. Her pupils were fairly wild over the great honor their much-loved teacher had received in being yesserday declared the first winner of the great European trip. An impromptu reception was held before the exercises commenced and not only the pupils but the teachers of the school dropped in to offer their congratulations to Miss Frederick. Congratulations were not new to the fortunate lady for all Sunday, letters, notes and telegrams of the congratulatory order were received by her from her wide circle of friends. Floral tributes were also sent during the Sunday to the happy andidate, but the most superb testimonial of a flowery nature was awaiting her at school this morning. It was a massive ship of flowers of such dimensions as to cover the snitre space of in degards. The foundation was of wicker, the base and huil being formed of great facquiminot, cream and pink roses. The ropes were composed entirely of violets, and over all flowed a sliken banner with the success and sliken banner with the success and the huge compliments also of the child's parents. The fortunate first winner of the trip is much pleased with her success and the huge compliments also of the child's parents. The fortunate first winner of the trip is much pleased with her success and asking her also to set the date she preferred as the day for salling from New York, that all convenient arrangements might be made for her. Miss Frederick he date she preferred as the day for salling from New York, that all convenient arrangements might be made for her. Miss Frederick the high the success and asking her also to set the date she preferred as the day for salling from New York, that all convenient arrangements are to the date of salling, would enjoy the trip through Europe very much in her company, and asking her also to set the heart fr FLOWERS FOR MISS FREDERICE.

from all directions giving the most positive assurance of the high regard and esteem in which Mrs. Fanning is held by all of her pupils.

REMEMBERING MISS PRITCHETT.

Miss Callie Pritchett's friends have overwholmed the pretty winner, with congratulations at her success in winning the vote of popularity. Visitors and letters were received by that young lady all during Sunday, and this morning a large number of floral offerings were sent out to her school. The congratulations will grow when it is known by her enthusiastic friends that the watch has been replaced by a trip to Europe. The young lady was delighted at the honor given her as the winner of the watch, but real tears of joy came into her lovely dark eyes when the note from the editor reached her today telling her that the Post-Disparteh had decided to give her the trip to Europe which she so desired, and which her friends and riends of Miss Pritchett gathered in numbers to-day during the 12 o'clock recreation to congratulate her on the great honor she had received. She was covered with flowers sent her by her friends and pointed appreciatively to several floral tributes near by. Miss Pritchett says she never will be able to thank the Sunday Post-Dispardeh for the pleasure it has brought her, and she thinks its generosity is giving her the trip places it beyond all the papers in the world in kindness as well as brightness and popularity. She had counted very much upon winning the tour to Europe, and her friends had told her that she would by all means be one of the victorious two. When the news reached her that the watch had fallen to her share, she was just a trifie disappointed at its not being the trip on which she so greatly est her heart, but the honor of the third popular teacher was a great compilment and the watch was such a very handsome one that she was much elsted when the first senso of dim disappointment had passed away. When later the news came to her that he sogreatly est her heart, but the honor of the third successful contestant in the f being ome of the victors at length has great cause for pleasure as well as complimentary triumph.

THE BALLOTS.

All the ballots cast in the election were today piled on a large platform in the window of the Post-Dispatch counting-room. This was in answer to request from voters and others to see what 475,519 ballots looked like when they were piled up.

Just think of that number, 475,519 ballots, if you wish to get an idea of the voting done during the contest. Not much more than a half dozen States in the Union cast that many votes for all the candidates combined at the last presidential election. The States were fillinois. Indians, Michigan, Missouri, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania. None of the rest came near these figures. Harrison when elected received all told 5,-440,216 votes, a little more than eleven times the vote cast for two popular benchers in the city of St. Louis. The total vote of the State of Missouri in that election was 523,198. The great proof of success of the election was the number of ballots cast. The public are invited to view the vast heap in the Post-Dispatch window, and to speculate on the work it took to count them out, fill them properly, sort them after they were field, and finally to make the count which determined the lucky teachers who were entitled to the prize.

THEY WILL GET THE BALLOTS.

In regard to Mrs. Fanning's request that the ballots cast for her be given to her, the Post-Dispatch.

It speaks for itself.

VOTES STILL COMING IN.

Votes are still coming in. Wallace Bell sent a small package of ballots for Mrs. Fanning this morning. Another small package arrived for Miss Dependant of the Blair School, signed by Annie Guinnon of 1830 Wright street. Of course they were too late, and could not be counted.

the Government seeking to Recover $53, 000 From Shapleigh & Castwell-Alleged Fraudulent Vouchers Approved by Capt, Miltimore-Serious Charge Against Officers of the Bureau of Animal Industry.

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 2.—Steps have been taken by the Secretary of the Treasury to bring suit against the Shapleigh & Cantwell Co. of St. Louis, to recover the sum of $53,000 which the Government is alleged to have lost by the payment of fraudulent vouchers presented by this firm, approved by Capt. Alonzo E. Miltimore of the Quartermaster' department of the Army. The alleged trans actions have taken place more than three years ago. Capt. Miltimore cannot be proceeded against on account of them, as under the army regulations if officers are not brought to trial within three years the charges are ont lawed. Capt. Miltimore is to answer to a court martial at Tucson, Ariz., June 10. On another charge, however, it is alleged that he rented his own property to the Government for offices, the vouchers being made out in the name of one of his clerks, and that he included his wife on the pay-roll as a clerk at $100 per month and his servant as janitor at $40 per month. There is no evidence to show that either of them did any work for the Government.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 2.—Charges of the gravest and most sensational character have through Representative McAdoo of New Jer been made in a formal appeal to Congress through Representative McAdoo of New Jersey, asking for a thorough investigation of the operations of agents of the Bureau of Animal Industry in the counties of Hudson and Bergen, New Jersey. The allegations are made in writing by C. A. Dunham, an attorney of Hudson County, whose responsibility is wonched for by Representative McAdoo. As the result of these charges a resolution calling fer an investigation is being prepared, and will be introduced in aday or two. Inspectors for the Bureau of Animal Industry are authorized by the law of 1884 to enter the field or stable of a citizen and make an examination of his cattle. If they detect the presence of pleuro-pneumonia they may condemn a whole herd to be slaughtered. The law provides that the owners shall be compensated for cattle thus slaughtered at a rate usually fixed by "appraisers."

"Although a Chief inspector condemns cattle and buys them up at the cost of the Government," says Mr. Dunham in his statement, "he does not do the killing. Neither does the Government take the flesh, although many of those animals make as good beef as can be found in the market. The practice is to sell cattle to a butcher, never at a price anywhere approaching their cost to the Government, I is within my knowledge that a herd of unusually large, fine cows, more than thirty is number, for which the Government paid, through the chief inspector, $33 a head, were on the same day given a butcher $6 a head, less than one-fifth the price paid for them, and considerably less than the worth of their hides and tailow. The butcher was thus given the herd for $80 less than they have been instances where the inspector has bought at a higher and sold at a lower price than the foregoing. Pleuro-pneumonia can never be extirpated under the present regulations of the bureau, permitting the wholesale condemnation of cattle and their sale to butchers. The disease has been toe great abonanza to the buchers for them to allow it to be extirpated. The Tariff Bill. WASHINGTON, D. C., June 2 .- Two hours were spent by the Republican members of the Senate Finance Committee this morning in the further consideration of the tariff bill. The progress was slow, considerable difference of opinion being shown over the rates at the beginning. There was considerable discussion upon the general question of the tariff upon lumber, but the attitude of the several Senators was not disclosed. One of the members of the committee to-day repeated the opinion expressed Saturday that the bill would be ready for report this week. None of the schedules have been referred to the Democratic members for their inspection, as there are too many disputed and unsettied terms to make them of any value to the minority in preparing their report. The tin plate paragraph, it is understood, has been passed over without action. Messrs. Morrill and Sherman will not be with their associates of the committee this afternoon, owing to other engagements, so that the bill will be in charge of the sub-committee composed of Senators Allison, Aldrich, Hiscock and Jones. were spent by the Republican members of the

Killed by a Chicago Grip Train—A Druggist'

CHICAGO, Ill., June 2 .- Philip Lyon of Ithaca, N. Y., was fatally injured yesterday forenoon by a grip train on Wabash avenue, near Eighteenth street. Lyon, with three companions, Wm. Romer of Ithacs, Joseph Levis and Wm. Fitch of Chicago, was on a northbound train. The car being crowded, they decided to step to the next one. Levish and Fitch did so successfully, but Lyon slipped and fell between the platforms. He was dragged some distance before the cries of the excited passengers attracted the attention of the train conductor, who stooped the train. Lyon was unconscious when taken from beneath the car, where his clothing had become entangled in the brake rod. He was terribly bruised and mangled. His spine was dislocated and fractured. His hips and left ankle were also broken. He was removed to Mercy Hospital, where he died at 6:30 p. m. Lyon was about 29 years old and was the son of Judge Lyon of Ithaca. WEATHER CHOP BULLETIN. ora Prospects in Missouri Not Very Bright —Oats Looking Bad.

Fifty-nine correspondents of the Missouri ate Board of Agriculture report that crop cospects in the State are not very bright. In a Northwestern countles the drouth the Northwestern counties the drouth still prevails, though in the Central counties the rainfall has been heavy. Wheat prospects are getting worse, a considerable amount of cheat being reported. The oat louse or grain aphis (aphis avenue) is doing considerable damage to the oat crop in the southeastern section. Many fields are reported as being completely destroyed.

The outlook for corn is only tair, taking the State as a whole, owing to delay in planting in Southeast Missourl, because of excessive rains, and the drouth now prevailing in North Missourl. The following are the correspondents' remarks by counties:

Adair—Oats and grass need rain.

Boone—Chintz bugs are in several wheat fields in large numbers. Hessian fly in some localities. Corn and oats doing well.

Chariton—Wheat, 30 per cent; some cheat in it. Corn and oats doing nicely.

Weather forecast for twenty-four hours, beginning at 8 a.m. to-day, for St. Louis: Showers; slightly cooler; severe local storms probable this afternoon.

THE SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH continues to be the best although the cheapest newspaper in this city.

THREE popular lady teachers will enjoy European trips at the expense of the Sun-DAY POST-DISPATCH.

THE rebellion at Richmond has subsided and the stars and stripes still wave over the whole country without the aid of Editor SHEPARD's army of a million of phan-

In accordance with the rule of the Sun-DAY POST-DISPATCH to exceed public expectation it adds one more prize to the trip-to-Europe contests, thus making four prize winners and giving a trip to Europe to another popular schoolmarm.

Ir Census Superintendent PORTER really expects the Department of Justice to prosecute all persons who refuse to answer some of the questions on the census list, he must expect it to go out of all other business for the next decade.

GARLAND that he has quit reading the newspapers may be taken as a notice that he has dropped out of the world's procession. The seclusion of Hominy Hill is the only thing which will fit his mental condition hereafter.

THE quality of journalism furnished by yesterday's SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH was not affected by the fact that the city carriers furnished it to the regular sub-vide school room and tuition for the children who are willing to attend, than to compel the attendance of others.

It is right and proper that the census collecting statistics to-day should refull and accurate information in ase to essential questions concerning pertinent questions concerning f them rests upon individual ut the enumerators are at o courteous refusal. They ible for the list of quesand to ask under the law overning them.

in yesterday's SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH. Doubtless every teacher whose name was on the list of candidates can echo the words of Mrs. FANNING, in which she described the rich rewards which the remembrance, sympathy and affection of old and new friends, ex-pupils and pupils have brought her. Such sentences as "to "me the work and votes of my friends are "precious and sacred;" "I have had a "rare treat even should I miss the prize;" "It is a recompense for years of toil and "sorrow," and "I shall treasure it in "memory long after the present fades "into the past," point out the real prizes of the great contest in which all have shared.

BY CARRIER 15 CENTS A WEEK.

AN EXTENSION OF HONORS.

Every reader of the SUNDAY POST-DIS-PATCH will welcome the announcement that it has been decided to offer Miss CAL-LIE A. PRITCHETT of the Shaw School, who received the third highest vote in the lady teachers' contest, a trip to Europe, thus giving her a share in the first honors with Miss FREDERICK and Mrs. FANNING, and adding a fourth prize winner to the list in Miss Anna B. Boyd of the Bates School, whose yote was next highest, and who will receive the handsome gold watch as the sign of her popularity.

Although by the terms of the contest only two lady teachers were to be given trips to Europe, yet it has been determined to extend the offer of this reward to Miss CALLIE A PRITCHETT, the third highest candidate, because the SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH recognizes the fact that it reason POST-DISPATCH recognizes the fact that it reason delinquent bables are not counted. was to the enthusiastic efforts of Miss An hour's trip with one of the enumerators PRITCHETT's friends, which won and retained the leadership for so long a time for her, that much of the popular interest in the contest was due. It takes especial pleasure in recognizing and rewarding as amply as possible this enthusiastic support of a bright, winning and deserving teacher. and the merits of the young lady. Little example less enthusiasm was manifested on the part of Miss Boyp's friends and intensity of interest was added to the contest when they pushed her to the front at the height of the rivalry. The deserts of both of these excellent and ambitious teachers are fully equal to their rewards.

Aside from the merits of the contestants, the SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH is deeply sensible of the generosity of its readers and the magnificent support and encouragement which its plan to reward the popular teachers of this city received at their hands. It is prompted, therefore, to meet generously the wishes of its own and the teachers' mutual friends-the people.

An hour's trip with one of the enumerators showed what difficulties were to be overcome in obtaining answers to the questions which have become so notoriously objectionable. The enumerators, however, have been furnished copies of the order made by Supt. Porter, instructing them not to take any steps to force answers, but simply to write opposite the question, "Refused to answer," and leave all prosecutions to the authorities at Washington.

Most of the questions are simple ones against which no objection can be urged. For example, the list starts out with an inquiry as to the name, surname, whether soldier, sailor or marine during the war, and in which army; then the relationship of the persons answering the question to the head of the family, age, whether single, married, widowed or divorced; mother of how many children, if a mother at all; place of birth of father and mother, number of years in this country and whether naturalized, profession, trade or occupation, attendance at school during the census year; whether able to read and write, whether able to speak English, and if not, what language. This morning a Post-Dispatch reporter, while making his rounds, happened across a census enumerator who was hard at work. His necktie had worked up over his collar, which was wlited from the perspiration which poured down over his face. His hat was jammed down over his face. His hat was jammed down over his seyes, and his very mustache had an air of antsgopism.

"Oh, isn't this a sweet job." he said, giving his portfolio a victious siap, "and I glad I took it; don't I hope it will last along time? Oh, yes I do. Say, this is the meanest job a man ever tackied."

"I supposed it was a snap," said the re-

"I supposed it was a snap," said the re-"supposed it was asiap," said the reporter."

'Snap, oh yes, this is a snap. If I sin't crazy inside of four days I'll eat my hat. Say, if you want to know what it is like just you listen while I tackle some of the people."

The reporter followed him into a building. It was a small store or shop. Behind the counter stood a fat German fanning himself with a piece of newspaper and seated in a chair was a woman who was apparently his wife.

'Good morning,' said the census man po-"Yah," said the man, fanning himself all the more vigorously.
"I have come to take the census of the United States." "We don't keep that," said the man.
"I want to get the names of the people live here. Those who make this place tresidence."

"Why don't you look at the sign?" "Why don't you look at the sign?"
The enumerator finally made them understand his mission and after seating himself in a chair got his portfolio opened.

The first questions were asked and answered with a running fire of comment from the man and his wife, apparently to their great smussment. The man acted as though reat amusement. The man acted as though he wanted to fight when asked if he had ever been in prison and when asked if he was a pauper started to make a speech. In German about the foolishness of such questions. The pauper started to make a speech. In German about the foolishness of such questions. The enumerator finally broke away and made for the next place.

"Those people are comparatively decent to talk to, but you had ought to see some of them," he said, ruefully.

The next place was a flower store. Behind the counter stood a very pretty, red-cheeked girl, who tittered in an amused way when told the object of the visit.

"Who is the head of the family?" asked the censue man.

"Watt, and I'll bring him here," she said, and darted into a back room.

A stalwart young man returned with her, and squaring his elbows in a resolute way, he said, "Go ahead." He was asked his name, age, etc., and answered the questions in a voluble manner. He thought it was very funny to be asked if he had ever been in jail, and made numerous uncomplimentary remarks about the year who made out that question. Then the girl was interrogated as ind been her brother. After the entumorator had spent about twenty minutes with them he discovered that the young man was not the head of the family as his father was silving in the same house. The carefully filled-in blank then had to be thrown away, as the lists must begin with the head of the family. The young man laughed and said he didn't think it would make any difference, because his father was away at work and his mother didn't have time to come down-stairs.

Then the whole thing had to be gone over again. Before filling out the blank for that family the enumerator will have to call again. And thus it went on. Finally the funny man was run across. It is a sure thing that the funny man always bobs up, whatevef work is to be done. The special funny man observed by the reporter this morning was up to the mark and was as annoying as they generally are. The census man waiked into the door and the funny man had a customer for whom he was wrapping up a box of berries.

"Aha, here comes the census man, and 'll have to teal him all I know," he said.

"Never mind, it won't take long," replied the enumerator with a wisk at the reporter.

"Do you live here?"

"You can bet your life I do."

"Hew many are there in the family?"

"Where were you born?"

"In good old Ireland. I 'il tell you the number of our house in the bog if you want to know it."

The other questions were answered in the same strain and the man appeared to have lots of fun out of it. When the enumerator had finlished and folded up his portfolio he said:

The last the reporter saw of him he was trying to explain his mission to u deaf old colored woman who was sweeping the sidewalk.

To a POST-DISPATCH reporter Aunt Patsy said: "Our colored people to-day are different from what they were when I was young. Why, they don't know how to work."

Aunt Patsy was asked if she remembered any little incidents of her younger days. She said she remembered seeing George Washington some place in the East. Master Cooper and his wife accompanied by her took a long journey in a carriage somewhere East. "I remember," she said, "hearing them speak of a war, and when I saw, Washington it was when he became I resident of the country, for I remember hearing master saying so. "We colored people that belonged to Master Cooper were treated kindly and nicely. I never heard of a NeGRO BEING MISTREATED.

We were always taught to be good and to treat white people with respect. When I was a girl I was bad, I swore and did other deeds that were sinful. Instead of being whipped as I was often told that others living south of us were, my mistress kindly showed me where I was wrong and asked me to do better. I tried hard to do so and I succeeded. I remember weil the Mexican war in 1846-1847."

During the civil war, her mistress died and her master, who was getting old and feeble, managed the estate. After the close of the war, he told the slaves that if they wanted to go they could do so, out if they preferred staying, he would give each and every one a little house and some ground. But, strange to say, not one wanted to stay, except Aunt Patey, who has never seen any of them since.

But, strange to say, not one wanted to except Aunt Patsy, who has never seen any of them since.

She remained nutil her late master died, when she went to Hilinois and then came to St. Louis. While residing with Master Cooper she was married and had eleven children, five of whom are dead. She has not seen her children for a number of years. Mrs. Purkins is a stanch Christian and is well liked by the white people. Despite her years she can sew and thread a needle without glasses. Her eyesight, in fact, is very good. She has in her possession an old-time Bible which Mrs. Cooper gave her, the leaves of which are torn and yellow with age and usage. Though she has no dates to offer, she insists that she is in her 120th year.

a Can Can Dancer to Perform in a Water

Py Telegraph to the Post-Disparon. NEW YORK, June 3.—Under the date of May 20 the World prints this correspondence: The Grand Duke George of Russia, brother of the Czar, has left Paris for Cannes. He has left with every bone in his imperial body aching. It is not probable that he will honor On Wednesday inight this imperial gentleman, after dining heavily, went in company with fashionable dancing place on the heights noticed a young person, notorious for her danging of the can-can and who is known in Mont: Martre by |the nom de guerre of Suzanne. Her attractions so pleased his Imperial Highness that he sent the person who was with him to invite her to take supper with him at one of the boulevard cafes The young ballerina, only too honored, accepted and at the close of the ball took her place in the private brougham hired for the evening by the Russian Grand Duke. It was not long, however, before she repented her acceptance of his reached the Place St. George's, where there is imperial piece of fun to make the young ballerina perform siren fashion in the basin of the aforesaid fountain.

SUZANNE VERY NATURALLY ORIECTED but her imperial and royal hosts would not hear of any refusal and were for pitching her into the water. It happens, however, that hard by this fountain is a cafe called Les Roches Noires, which keeps open all night and which is frequented by the gentlemen who move in the circle of the ladies who dance at the Moulin Rouge. On hearing Suzanne's screams four or five of these braves rushed out to the rescue and a free fight ensued between what is most noble and what is most ruble in Europe. The tight being an unequal one in spite of the fact that the validant Romanoff brought out a revolver and menaced his aggressors, would certainly have ended in the defeat of the house of Russia but for the fact that at a critical moment the police arrived on the scene and hauled the whole party off to the police station in the Rue Mont Martre. Here explanations were given with the result that the Grand Duke and his friends were dismissed with a reminder that what may be quite feasible under an absolute monarchy may be impossible under a republic. The resous party were also let off with a caution. But for this incident the Grand Duke would to-day have been to the Elysee to pay his respects to President Carnot. In the state, however, in which he found himself after the encounter, he thought it advisable to get away from Paris at once, and this is what he has done.

The correspondent then asked what were Prince Dolgorouki's prospects and the representative of Mrs. Ayer, who is a kind of guardiamto Mrs. Ayer's son, said that Airs. Ayer had a great friendship for this person, but he did not think she had any ulterior ylews as to him. It is understoed, however, that Mrs. Ayer had informed her intimate friends that the marriage is decided upon. In the meanwhile the correspondent has been making some inquiries as to the status of Prince Dolgorouki, and has learned that this gentleman enjoys an allowance of $50 a month, paid him by his father; that he is one of the most notorious gambiers in Europe and has wasted all the money that ever came into his hands. It, therefore, seems rather credulous of Mrs. Ayer to say, what she is never tired of repeating, that Prince Dolgorouki loves her for herself slone. Should this marriage come off it may be feared that it will be troubled by Mrs. Wurtz-Dundas, who has a strong liking for the beggar Polish Prince. She is not at all the woman to see him calmiy go off with another woman, and everybody who knows the parties expect some very lively developments. At the same time Prince Gisdroye does not seem to be at all inclined to take his sack quiety and to forego the millions and the diamonds without a struggle, and on Wednesday last there was quite a scene in the courtyard of the Hotel Continental between the two rivals. At the time a duel was talked about, but there seems little probability of this as Cisdroye knows that Dolgorouki would only fight with platois and he has been jokingly told by Mrs. Ayer and der friends that he is much too good a mark for a shot to risk himself in front of a loaded pistol. Valori, on the other hand, is an excellent shot and a very good fencer and as he does not seem at all inclined there to gi

THE COURSE AT HARVARD.

A Strong Sentiment Against Reducing It

Boston, Mass.; June 2.—As a result of the ecommendation in the recent annual report of President Ellot of Harvard, a measure college course awaits only the approval of the Board of Overseers before becoming a statute. Board of Overseers before becoming a statute. The overseers, however, are said to be distinctly divided on the subject and it is far from likely that a decision will soon be reached. A direct reduction of the course from four years to three was the proposition of the radicals. But the compromise which has been carried through family, academic council and corporation is one which allows the granting of the degree of bachelor of arts upon the completion of sixteen courses. This a hard worker will do in three years. Among the graduates is the old traditional feeling that the course should not be less than four years, and it is likely the overseers will be influenced by this sentiment and stop all further action by their veto.

THE SCHOOL ELECTIONS DEPENDENT ON JUDGE DILLON'S DECISION.

Clardy Says He Is Not a Ca date for Congress in the Tenth District, but Will Not Say He Would Decline the Nomination-The Results of the Pri-maries Held in the State Saturday Favorable to Thomas and Gantt.

Whether school elections will be held in the First and Fourth School Districts on June 17 depends entirely on what action Judge Dilion takes on the application which has been made to him for an injunction to restrain the milerites from acting as a board. The application was a board. tion was made Saturday, and Judge Dillon cited the Millerites to appear in court to-mar-row and make answer as to why an injunction should not be issued against them. If the Judge should grant the injunction, and this If his decision even though adverse to the application should be delayed until after the will not likely be held on the day set.

The situation is this: The Millerites called the elections for June 17, and under the law it is required that all nominations shall be filed with the Secretary fitteen days in advance. Now the Anierites have begun pro-coedings to test the legality of their opponents acts on the grounds that they have not a while these proceedings are pending she Mil-lerites not wishing to occasion the public any unnecessary expense have decided to sus-pend the holding of the elections if it is necessary to to so. It will be necessary of course asked and thus decide that the Millerites had no right to call the elections and if he does no right to call the elections and if he does not decide either one way or the other before Friday the election will not likely be held on the date originally set, because the meeting of the Board to pass upon the judges and clerks selected has been called for that evening and the Election Committee is deferring these appointments until the Court is heard from.

To-day was the last day for the filing of nominations with Secretary Wash, if the elections are to be held on June 17. Up to late this afternoon no nominations had been filed, but there probably will be several later. The nomination of Henry Bus, to succed Mr. Reimler as representative of the Fourth District the Board, will certainly be filed, and, not improbably, will be the only one sent in from that District. In the First District there may be three candidates. The names of F. W. Sennewald, Julius Berner and Mr. Kramer, a retired merchant, are mentioned. All of these gentlemen, Mr. Bus included, will ran on the People's or Turner Hall platform.

talking with Mr. Hatton of Wayne County, a delegate to the State Convention, was accosted by a Post-Disparcy reporter.

"Now that Mr. Sam Syrnes has said that his law practice has become such that he does not think he would be justified in giving it up to go to Congress, there is a good deal of interest manifested as to whether his announcement that he would not be a candidate has changed your position any?" said the reporter.

"I do not see anything in Byrne's statement," repiled Mr. Clardy, "which would prevent him from accepting the nomination if it was tendered to him. But what he has said has not changed my position any."

"Are you a candidate?"

"No, sir, I am not."

"But would you not accept the nomination if it was given you?"

"Well, now if I were to say yes to that question it would amount to a delaration of my candidacy, and if on the other hand I were to say not it would sound as if I was declining something which had not been tendered me and which is not likely to be. I will tell you frankly that I do not wish to go back to Congress. I am very much in favor of the party choosing some other man for the nomination. If it be true that Brynes will not run then I think the party could with wisdom choose a man from South St. Louis. There are some men living in the southers part of the city who have been mentioned in connection with the nomination who would make a strong race. Mr. William Johnson and Fred Arendes are both strong men. Terry, too, would run well."

"What do you think of Judge Thomas' chances?"

"Well, you can say for myself and Mr. Hatton. If you want to refer to that matter.

chances?" What do you saim to myself and Mr. "Weil, you can say for myself and Mr. Hatton, if you want to refer to that matter, that the Southeast never had a candidate who was supported with the same unanimity and cordinity as Judge Thomas, and the peopie of that section are very hopeful of him winning."

The State Convention, favorable to Gantt and Thomas for Supreme Judge and Hickman for Rallroad Commis-sioner. The fight for the judgeship is now sioner. The fight for the judgeship is now certain to be a hot one and it is impossible to tell who will be the victor. There is a strong sentiment in St. Louis in favor of Burgess on account of his opposition to restrictive measures, and the politicians are mearly all for him. There is no doubt but that he will get the majority of the St. Louis delegation. There are a number of lawyers who favor Thomas and Gantt and they will both get a fairly good vote out of the city delegation if primaries are held, as they likely will be. If the support which Burgess will have here should be transferred in the convention, Thomas will get the mest of it."

It began this A. M. with a jam. The bargain seekers were almost as thick as the bargains. They came after neatly made white aprons with deep tucks or openwork at 19c, handsome 60-cent cambric corset covers at 39 cents, slightly soiled dollar-quarter embroidered skirting for 75 cents.

They actually swarmed about the table of odd linen pieces, towels, tidies, scarfs, etc., worth 50c, 60c and up to $1, all for 33 cents each,—and elegant $4.50 damask napkins for $2.87 a dozen.

But the climax was reached at the dress goods, where we are selling all pure wool real French stripes for 27 cents a yard. You see they knew it would be a bargain at double.

THE WIFE AS AGENT. JUDGE VALLIANT ON A HUSBAND'S LIABILI-TY FOR HOUSEHOLD DEBTS.

Rusband Befuses to Repay Money Borrowed by his Wife-Rulings by Judges Valliant and Withrow-Charles Soudder's Granted-Legal Notes and News.

asband or the household on his name or her power to act as his agent is the subject of a lecision rendered by Judge Valliant this norning in the case of Isabella Ambili against J. Wesley Haley. Mr. Haley is an engineer d his family lives at Bridgeton. He is away wife manages the household and is treasurer. About a year Mrs. Haley borrowed $30 from Ambill, a neighbor, to make purchases, and when her husban was informed of it he refused to pay Mrs. Ambill, saying she did wrong to loan his wife money without his order. She brought suit ground that what the wife aid the busband was responsible for. She was granted judgment for $33.60 in a Justice of the Peace court, and Mr. Haley appealed. Mrs. Ambil again got judgment from a jury in the Circuit Court and Mr. Haley moved for a new trial, elaiming the jury had been improperly instructed by the Court, which held that the husband was responsible. Jadge Valliant admits the error and sustains the motion after reviewing the point as fol-lows:

the motion after reviewing the point as follows:

AWIFE AS AGENT.

The instruction given at the request of the plaintiff on the subject of the ratification of the sileged act of agency was to the effect that if the supposed agent professed or pretended to be acting as the agent of defendant, and as such borrowed the money in his name and on his credit, and he being afterwards informed of the circumstances, promised to pay the same so borrowed, it was an act of ratification. If that is a correct proposition of law, then it follows that if one faisely pretends that he is the agent of another, and as such authorized to borrow money and under such faise pretens so obtains money for his own use and the alleged principal afterwards, on being informed of the true state of facts, with the motive, it may be, of shielding the pretended agent from prosecution, promises to pay the amount so borrowed, the promise would amount to a ratification.

tion, promises to pay the amount so borrowed, the promise would amount to a ratification.

But, upon a careful examination of the law, I am satisfied that it is not the correct principle. In order to lay the foundation for a ratification, there must have been an agency either in fact or assumed. The vice of the instructions in question is that it permits the case of a pretended agency. There is a broad difference between assuming to act as the agent of another without his authority and faisely pretending to so act by his authority.

INTENTIONS OF THE WIFE.

In the first case this act is done in the name and for the use of the principal and so intended by the agent; in the other case it is done in the name of the principal by and for the use of the pretended agent.

If one falsely pretended to have authority for example to burrow money in the name of another and does so for his own use he has committed the crime of obtaining money under false pretenses; then if the person whose credit was so abused should for the purpose of saving the criminal from punishment attempt to ratify the act and should promise to pay the money, that should not have the effect to make lawful the crime. So in the case of forgery, the person whose mane is forged cannot afterwards under the name of ratification convert a crime into a lawful act. An act unauthorized in the beginning, in order to be the subject of a ratification, must be such an act as when ratified is in effect the same as if it had been in the first place authorized.

Again, the act to be ratified is the sect that the agent actually commitarest place have authorized and which has fact been done for him. Applying these inciples to the case at bar, it is clear that instruction given at the instance the plaintiff was erroreous and mis-ding. The motion for a new trial will be itained. ned.

MONEY NOT A NECESSARY OF LIFE.
MONEY NOT A NECESSARY OF LIFE.

MONEY NOT A NECESSARY OF LIFE.

Mr. Stone for Mr. Haley in his brief says:

"In this case the wife was never authorized to berrow money for any purpose, not even to purchase sthe necessaries of life. She had a limited authority to purchase groceries, but not borrow money. The wife was neither a general or special agent for borrowing money. Surely not a general agent. Having authority to purchase necessaries of life does not and cannot imply authority in the wife to borrow money, because money is not a necessary of life. The wife's authority to bind the husband for necessaries is restricted to 'things for what may be termed the domestic department."

A Duel With Pistols Between Rival Lover

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 2. - The Courier-Jour nal to-day publishes the following: an act as when ratified is in effect the same as if it had been in the first place authorized.

Again, the act to be ratified is the act that the agent actually committed, not that which he falsely pretended to commit. One may authorize another to forrow money for him he his name to ro sign his name to a note, but he cannot authorize him to obtain money under false pretenses or to forge his name to a note.

One can ratify only that which he could in the first place have authorized and which has the first place authorized and some place in the first place in the first place and some place in the first place and some place in the first place in the first place and some place in the first place and some place in the first place in the first place and some place in the first place and some place in the first place in the f At 10:45-last night St. Louis Cemetery, dark ders, a traveling man for an Evansville (Ind.) clothing house. Sanders was engaged to be married to Miss Emma Zenor, a handsome young lady of Evansville, who is now visiting in this city. On coming here to see the young lady Sanders discovered that Overby had supplemented him in her affections. A quarrel was followed by a fight in which Sanders was worsted. The men afterwards met at the Alexander Hotel and resumed their difficulty, and finally decided to settle the affair according to the code. Overby was represented by Frank Lattrall, a young man who lives in Indianapolis, while a traveling man from Cincinnati named Harry Thomps acted as second for Sanders. Accompanied by a medical student is med James White, who acted as surgeon, and a reporter of the for Sanders. Accompanied by a medical student jamed James white, who acted as surgeon, and a reporter of the Courier-Journal, the party secured carriages and drove to St. Louis Cemetery in the suburbs. The principals took their positions, armed with 32-caliber Smith & Wesson revolvers, twenty paces apart. It was too dark to see the men plainly, except at a close distance, but they both displayed great cooliness. The seconds took their respective positions after arranging that the firing should begin when three had been counted.

"One, two, three."

As the last number was called by the physician, who did the counting, a blaze of fire finished from the muzzies of both pistols, Before one could see whether or not either man was wounded, four more reports rang out and Sanders staggered up to the tombstone near him and supported himself by its cold sides. Dr. White hastily examined him and found that one bullet had penetrated his right breast near the top of the shoulder, while another had made a slight flesh wound in his left arm. He had fired two shots, while Overby had fired three. The man's wounds were dressed as quickly as possible, and he was placed in his carriage and taken fo New Albany, Ind., where he took the first train for his home in Evansville. The other participants in the affair have all left the city, sanders wounds are not considered fatal.

REV. DR. BALDWIN THINKS THE MONGO-LIANS ARE BADLY TREATED.

The Prejudice in Certain Classes Entirely Unjustified-California's False Position in the Matter-The Mexican Governmen Alarmed Over the Influx of Chinese Into That Country.

By Telegraph to the Post-Disparch. New York, June 2.—The series of Sunday afternoon addresses on subjects of current interest, which has been in progress in the old Asbury Church in Washington Square, east, was made notable yesterday by the Rev. Dr. S. L. Baldwin of the Methodist Missionary Society, speaking on the question, "Must the Chinese go?" Dr. Baldwin was emphatically treated very badly in this country, that prejudice in certain classes against him was entirely unjustified, and that if the question of immigration is to be considered in the as-pect of exclusion, the reformers should not confine all their attention to the Golden Gate. The speaker reviewed the relations which have existed between this country and China since Commodore Perry's famous expedition,

"The Chinese Government did not make he suggestion to us that their people should be permitted to emigrate to this country. The suggestion came from us and at that time the Chinaman was especially needed and wel-come in California. He built railways, did workingmen's duty everywhere and added $200,000,000 to the value of her lands by irrigation and drainage. Yet she who has derived more benefit from the Chinaman than any other State is led by a hoodlum bellal to de-

"In the last twenty-five years this country has accumulated only 100,000 Chinaman. Yet within a year we get hundreds of thousands of other foreigners as immigrants. It's charged that the Chinese send their money home. Well, how long has it been a crime to do this? The Chinese in California earn $6,000,000 a year and of this they send home $2,000,000. Yet I once heard John Boyle O'Reilly in Boston declare, with a decided manifestation of pride, that Irishmen in this country sent $70,000,000 a year to their families in Ireland. It is urged that they will not become citizens, yet there is a law which deprives them of the right to become such."

Dr. Baldwin spoke with much bitterness, and said that when a type of foreigners who persist in voting early and often and who at the same time control the municipal government were relieved from their too onscous responsibility, it would be more appropriately a time when the desirability of Chinese citizens should be discussed.

By Telegre th to the POST-DISPATCH.

MEXICO, June 2.—The influx of Chinese into the frontier States of the Republic is produc-ing marked alarm among the laboring classes, ore especially among the gold and sliver more especially knows the district invaded. The newspapers of those localities have already taken up the cudgels in defense of their patrons, stating that if there is no extradition consecuted in the control of their patrons, stating that it there is no extradition placed on the "yellow pasts," the same scenes that have occurred in the United States will be repeated in Mexico. The Chinese, it is claimed, are superseding the Mexican miners and other laborers, from the fact that they will work cheaper. While many believe that Chinese are landing in the frontier States of Mexico for the purpose of making their way across the line into the United States, the general opinion among the Mexicans is that they pome to take the place of the natives. If the Chinese continue to arrive in such numbers as they have arrived recently, the result will be to benefit the United States, because such action as has already been taken by the Northern Republic will be necessary here.

At the Council meeting in this city Saturday night an ordinance was presented by five Aldermen calling for the compulsory use of State ex val. I. Shawallan. of Mexico for the purpose of making their way across the line into the United States, the general opinion among the Mexicans is that they gome to take the place of the natives. If the Chinese continue to arrive in such numbers as they have arrived recently, the result will be to benefit the United States, because such action as has already been taken by the Northern Republic will be necessary here.

At the Council meeting in this city Saturday night an ordinance was presented by five Aldermen calling for the compulsory use of pantaioons in place of the cotton material now used by the lower laboring classes. The President of the Council appointed a committee of five Aldermen to oblige employes upon stress work to use pantaloons of other material than cotton, and to wait upon the proprietors of factories and to assist in the reform movement. Compulsory city laws of the same nature exist already in nearly all the large cities of the Republic, and have had the desired effect of making the lower classes discard their flowing cotton trousers for mixed wool and cotton material. There was quite a fight over the ordinance, one alderman desiring to amend it so as to include blouses, but was voted down. The threatened invasion of Mexico from amend it so as to include blouses, but was voted down.

The threatened invasion of Mexice from Texas by Mexican malcontents is considered absurd. Should such an attempt be made it would end as did Rey's expedition from Arizona several years ago, when after a battle the insurrectionists sought the American side, were captured by the United States troops, tried and sentenced to prison at Detroit for a number of years. Enough forces are stationed on the frontier to repel any Mexican expedition that may be formed in Texas.

A HOSPITAL FOR EAST ST. LOUIS.

Dedication Yesterday, With Imposing Ceremenies-A Description of the Building. St. Mary's Hospital, at the corner of Missouri avenue and Ninth street. East St. Louis was dedicated yesterday by Bishop Janssen. The building is the first of its kind in East St. stories high, with a mansard roof, and cost $30,000 to erect. The Bishop solemnized masses at St. Henry's Church at 7 and 8 a. m. and solemn high mass at 10:30, when seventy-five children were confirmed. In the atternoon there was a procession from near St. Henry's Church to the new hospital. The Bishop and the local Catholic olergy occupied carriages, and were followed by the Leo Zouaws of St. Patrick's Church, the Young Ladles' Sodality, St. Patrick's congregation, the East St. Louis Cornet Band, and representatives of several societies. Conrad Reeb was Grand Marshai.

The dedication ceremonies took place at 4 p. m., when the Bishop went into each room and blessed it. The choir of St. Henry's Church rendered some selections from Mozart very ably, and there were appropriate addresses in English by Father Hagen of Believille, and in German by Father Hagen of Wonics. The latter explained that the hospital would be under the charge of the four Franciscan sisters recently arrived from Springfield, and Dr. H. J. De Haan of East St. Louis. In seir weekly circular, Messrs. Clews & Co. of Broad street, New York, say: The market has had to contend with an unusual number of adverse influences, which were to much for more favorable factors to offset Among these influences were (1) the issue of $27,000,000 of stock by the Atchison & Topeka in part payment for the St. Louis & San Fran-$27,000,000 of stock by the Atchison & Topeka in part payment for the St. Louis & San Francisco, with the prospect of further issues to satisfy the remaining stockholders; (2) the large new issues by the Richmond Terminal Co.; (3) the appointment of a receiver by the Supreme Court of Illinois for the Chicago Gas Trust, with the consequence of a distrust towards all the trusts, which, on Thursday, almost culminated in panic and caused a fail in Chicago Gas to 49% and in Sugar Trust from 63% to 75; and (4) the failure of the Western railroads to induce Mr. Gould to become a party to a general restoration of freight rates. The market, as it now stands, has two sides, and neither one to be despised. The "bears' have the accidents of the moment in their favor and a considerable following; but their danger lies in over-doing a transient excitement and in creating a "short' interest which it may cost them dearly to settle. The "buils' are depending upon a growing tendency towards ease in the loan market; upon an improvement in the relations of the railroads which has not yet been discounted; upon a generally satisfactory condition of trade and the prospect of good crops; upon irage railroad earnings, and upon the fact that prices have already had a considerable decline. Watch the struggle between the two sides, rather than to plunge in as participants. For the next week the safe course will be found in seiling long stocks on all moderate railies and buying only on sharp breaks, which will be quite frequent hereafter. It is not likely to be a good market on which to buy with a view to holding for a long period.

A FRAUDULENT DIVORCE, Mrs. Winterfield Objects to Her Husband's

New York, June 2.-Mrs. Annie Winneld, teacher in Grammar School, No. 14, claims to be the victim of a fraudulent divorce obtained by her husband about a month ago in Colorado, where he now resides. His name is Ephriâm Winterfield and until s year ago he kept a store on Second avenue. The couple were married June 20, 1889. Shortly The couple were married June 20, 1889. Shortly before he gave up his business, according to Mirs. Winterfield's statement, he began to neglect and finally deserted her. Immediately theresiter she claim to have been subjected to malicious persecution on his part. She secured a lawyer and a private detective to obtain evidence against him, with a view to a divorce, but she alleges they soid out her interests to her husband. A month later the latter went to Denver, where he opened up a wholesale clothing store. Mrs. Winterfeld heard no more of her husband until a month ago, when she received through the malls this peculiar message:

"State of Colorado, Arapahoe County: In the County Court within and for the aforesaid County of Arapahoe:

"You have been divorced."

There was no signature nor date to this convolution.

"You have been divorced."
There was no eignature nor date to this communication. The address on the envelope was in the handwriting of her husband. Mrs. Winterfield consulted her lawyer and an investigation revealed that a divorce had been granted by Judge Miller of Denver on the ground of desertion. The name of the witness, John Jacob Bernstein, Mrs. Winterfield believes to, be a fictitious one. A suit was brought to annul the divorce.

Oity Counselor Bell Says the Ordinance Authorizing the Sale of Union Market Is Perfectly Legal — Brennan's Appoint-ment to Be Acted Upon To-Morrow Night-City Hall Matters.

The Railroad Committee of the Council is in sion this afternoon considering the appli-tion for franchises to run tracks along North and street, sought by both the Merchants' minal and the Wabash Railroad Compa-

North Market street with the St. Lonis & Illinois bridge. The route proposed in the bill is commencing at Second and North Market eets, thence south on Second street, crossing Monroe, Exchange, Madison, Chambers, Tyler, Labaume, Bogy, Mound, Howard and Mullanphy streets, across city block 242, across Florida street, thence continuing with single track along said Second street, across Cass avenue, Bates, O'Fallon, Ashley, Biddle, Carr, Cherry, Morgan streets, and Dhristy avenue, and all intervening alleys, to the Illinois and St. Louis Bridge approach. The railroad company also asks permission to construct, maintain and operate a branch ith two tracks over and across city block lins street, across Cass avenue, Bates, O'Falon, Ashley and Biddle streets, thence with a single track across Carr and Cherry streets, through the alley in block 68, across Moggan through the alley in block 67, across Christy avenue, and across block 66, and all interven-ing alleys, to a proper connection with the tracks of the St. Louis Bridge & Tunnel Rail-tracks of the St. Louis Bridge & Tunnel Railway Co.

The Merchants' Terminal asks the right of way with a single track over pretty much the same route. It proposes to commence at North Market street and run over city block 237, and north and south alley in same, across Monroe street into Second street, thence southwardly on Second street, across Clinton street, Madison street, Chambers street, Trier street, Labeaume street, Hempstead street, Brooklyn street, Mound street, Howard street, Mulianphy street, into and across city block 246, and east and west alley in same, across Florida street into Collins street, across Florida street into Collins street, across Class avenue, Dickson street, O'Fallon street, ashley street to Biddle street.

was exceedingly wrathy this morning for a few minutes, though he remarked only a few minutes before that he always made it a point to keep cool in warm weather. But, it appears, he had some cause for his ruffied state of mind. About 10 o'clock an abie-bodied German called in company with his wife and requested that their 16-year-old son be committed to the House of Refuge and kept their until the schools re-opened in September. He said the boy had become tired of going to school, and persisted in playing truat with other boys. He declared that he did not propose to stand such conduct, and for that reason was extremely desirous of putting his son in the House of Refuge. The request and the explanatory remarks from the parent of the young srustn angered the usually series cerebrus of the contingent fund, and the food of wrath he, oured out startled the crowd in the office. He asked the father if he was not a boy himself at one period in his life, and if he had not arrived at the conclusion at any time during his boyhood that romping in the green fields, listening to the singing birds, eating green apples, contracting cholera morbus, was not more congenial to his tastes than a seat on a hard bench in a school-room with the temperature in the ninesies.

The Sergeant then went for the German with a rebuke that astonished him.

As he was leaving the office he said he would

A Legal Measure.

an opinion as to the legality of the ordinance which proposes the sale of the Union Market property. The opinion was prepared at the request of Councilman Ganahi of the Committee on Markets, which has charge of the measure. The opinior, which fully sustains the bill, reads as follows: Hon. John J. Ganahl, Chairman Committee on

Markets;

SIR-I have at your request examined council bill 24, authorizing the sale of the Union Market square, and have to say that the same if adopted will be a valid ordinance. The provision contained in Sec. 2 that the proceeds of the sale shall be applied to the acquisition of a new market and to the erection of the new city hall in Washington Square does not conflict with the provisions of the city charter with reference to the sinking fund. This present bill substitutes ether real estate for the Union Market property, and the sinking fund, therefore, is not entitled to any of the proceeds. The power exercised in the bill of transforming one piece of real estate; into another piece of real estate; into another piece of real estate; into another piece of real estate; and another piece of real estate; and sanother piece of real estate; and sanother piece of real estate; and another piece of real estate; and another piece of real estate; and another piece of real estate; and case to which the like the same application.

Conduit Bills in the Council.

The Council Committee on Public Improve ments will meet to-morrow afternoon to con sider the bills presented by the St. Louis Con Co. and the Bell Telephone duit Co. and the Bell Telephone Co. to lay conduits underground to carry electric wires. The St. Louis Co.'s bill was presented a few weeks ago by Councilman Hooian by request.
Though the bill is a long one, in no place do the names of the persons asking its passage express their willingness to deposit a bond of $25,000 to secure the city against damages that may accrue from the tearing up of streets. Some of the members are disposed to believe that this is a small bond to cover permits to tear up streets in all sections of the city.

errow evening the Council will take up nomination of Secretary Brennan, and determine before is adjourns whether or the will be Mr. Burnet's successor at the ad of the Street Department. The appointant of Mr. Brennan has been one of the franklin avincipal tepies of discussion in the City Hall arm by a visit since it was made by the Mayor, and opinions of all kinds have been expressed concerning it. The interest in the appointment among the officials and politicians is very strong, and a large crowd will undoubtedly fill the Council Chamber to-morrow evening when action is taken in the matter. To-day Mr. Brennan's friends appear sangules and say be will get eight votes when a vote is taken. They count, it is understood, on the votes of Mesers. Sloen, Roban, Comfort, Vogel, Meier, Hoolan, Rensisk and Horton. They do not expect any assistance from the others. With the exception of Councilman Roban and Sloan, who have declared themselves favorable to the confirmation, the Councilmen have manifessed a disposition to any nothing that would give out an idea as to how they propose to vote. There have been a number of bets at even figures on the Council's action and the holders of both ends of these wagers seem equally confident.

in a very sensational manner that a White Cap notice had been posted in the depot at Gratict, calling upon all good citizens of the place to meet in the evening "to protest against the presence in their midst of George Vail, his dangerous buil and his impudent nigger." This notice, the article stated, was put uo to injure Mr. Vail, who is a brother of Charles Vail, under inditment for murder, and that he had been so persecuted and maitreasted by citizens of the place that he had been compelled to procure a permit to carry a revolver. An old story of two years ago about a dispute over the possession of a cow was revived and republished and asubsequent encounter between Mr. Vail and five men at the depot was retold. The story of this encounter, as told by the Republic, was that a cripple named Dee Aldred wno had assisted Mr. Vail, was found murdered some time later, his body being fished out of the river in a mutilated condition, and that his murder was the outcome of his defense of Mr. Vail.

THE ST. LOMIS, ALTON & TERRE HAUTE, Annual Meeting This Afternoon-The Sale

to the Big Four. The annual meeting of the St. Louis, Alton & Terre Haute Railroad Co. was held this afternoon at the offices in the Laclede Building. There was a large percentage of stock represented, and considerable interest was represented, and considerable interest was evinced in the proceedings. Besides the ordinary business the question of the confirmation of the sale of the lines between East St. Louis and Terre Haute to the Big Four came up for a vote. The object of the sale was explained, the property to be sold including the division for which the Big Four has been paying a rental of $450,000. Under the present scheme the Big Four will acquire possession of the road for $10,000,000. The meeting lasted till late in the afternoon.

Chicago Market Letters.

Spec at to J. C. Ewald.

Chicago, Jane 2.—Wheat—Beantiful weather and easier cables gave the beats an opportunity to depress prices on the curb, of which they took full advances. The opening of the regular board was easier, on seiling by the teaping crowd and by Hutchinson, and the bearish feeling was further increased by the very small decrease in the whibe apply. About the time that prices broke to 92c the rumor came that the Illinois state report would show a decline of 7 points in condition, on which the enthusiastic bulks fought freely and advanced prices about 14c. We believe that these state report would show a decline of 7 points in condition, on which the enthusiastic bulks fought freely and advanced prices about 14c. We believe that these state report of bad crops condition have that the time is approaching toom. The bolievers in wheat are so enthusiastic on the rich that they buy on every pretext, however sim, but the outside at present is giving them very little that they buy on every pretext, however sim, but the outside at present is giving them very little assistance. We confessour inability to see good cause for higher prices in the near future. Corn was cuit, but fairly drm, in spite of very large receipts, both to-day and expect large receipts to-morrow.

Provisions—libe and lard duil and weak. The trade in barrel port has been very large as assemed to be chieff in changing from one mount to another, the sume part going into the hands of the profes-heat.—The non-arrival of the State Department res of Missouri and Illinois and the ravorable ther remerally throughout the country—clear and in the winter pheat belt and fine rains in the wast—more and the bear element to sell again. REAL ESTATE.

EVIDENCE OF AN APPRECIATION OF VAL-UES IN THE SOUTHWEST.

an Important Lease Declared Off-Sor ing Sold-Improvements to Be Made at Washington Avenue and Twenty-First Street, and at Bell and Pendleton Ave-

Although the weather is getting pretty warm, interest in real estate keeps up and the lemand and sale of property opened fair for the week. To-day there was a good deal of western section, for all of them are much pleased with the result of the Alexander place auction Saturday afternoon when 3,925 fron sect, all that was offered, were sold for an aggregate of $73,787.50.

Based upon that success they predict that the Tyler place sale will a better auction than some of them prophesied that it would be, for they are commencing to realize that the only thing which has depressed the value of build ing sites in that locality was the lack, heretofore, of the rapid transit lines recently intro DECLARED OFF.

Gist Blair has not made a lease for ninety-nine years of his property, No. 207 North Fourth street, to the Sprague Delicatesse property as reported. The parties discussed a lease of the prop erty without coming to an understanding.

Mr. Blair declined the offer, and his action is satisfactory to Mr. Walter B. Sprague, with whom the negotiations were conducted.

Mr. Blair thinks Fourth street will increase Sprague thought he offered all the property was worth.

The terms discussed were equivalent to net rent of about $2,000 a year for the prem net rent of about $2,000 a year for the premises.

OHAS. GAGE'S DWELLING SOLD.

It was reported this morning that Charles H. Gage's old-fashloned double stone front dwelling, at No. 3720 Washington avenue, had been sold for $22,000, and there is no doubt that it is a fact as several parties were trying to buy the place last week from Charles H. Bailey. The lot has a frontage of 80 by a depth of 30 feet, and is of rare value, about $200 a foot, on account of its elegant location on the south side of the avenue, between Grand and Cabanne. The house is old style, out of repair and comparatively not worth much, it being one of the first erected on the avenue west of Grand.

BOUGHT TO IMPROVE.

GEN. JAMES LONGSTREET. Be Will Visit St. Louis as the Guest of Jerome Hill. This evening Gen. James Longstreet will ar This evening Gen. James Longstreet will arrive in St. Louis as the guest of his old army comrade, Jerome Hill. Gen. Longstreet has not visited this city since 1848, when he was stationed at Jefferson Barracks when he was stationed at Jefferson Barracks as a young lieutenant. He was well known in society here, and had a large circle of friends. Uluyses S. Grant was in the city at the time also holding a lieutenant's commission. Longstreet introduced him to Miss Dent, whe afterwards became his wife. Gen. Longstreet will remain in the city several days. He will visit the Merchants' Exchange to-morrow.

John Welch's Case Continued. The case of John Welch, arrested for eareiess driving Saturday, was continued until Friday. It will be remembered that the pole of Weich's wagon struck Jacob Ritter, as he was about to board a street car, and his skull was fractured. Weich was then arrested. The defendant denies that he was pulled from his wagon by the crowd and says he was not careless.

Death of Mr. Hugh S. Long.

Mr. Hugh S. Loag, one of the oldest residents of Stoddard addition, died Saturday at his residence, 1807 Gambie street. Mr. Loag was 71 years of age and leaves several children, all grown. His funeral will take place to morrow from St. Bridget's Church, and will no doubt be very largely attended as he had a very extensive acquaintance.

The Body of a Beautiful Weman Found in

NEW BRITAIN, Conn., June 2-The body woman who was beautiful in life lies at the morgue in this city awaiting identification. The body was taken from the Walnut Hill reservoir on last Saturday evening. The woman had been seen near the reservoir with a little girl in the early part of the evening, acting very suspiciously. About 8 o'clock Charles Eddy was riding near the cemetery Charles Eddy was riding near the cemetery with a friend. They were suddenly startled by two piercing shrieks which seemed to come from the reservoir. Eddy leaped from the carriage and saw what he was certain was a woman sink into the dark water. A shawl and hat were found flosting on the water and near the bank a woman's shoe was found. Eddy lost no time in informing the police of the affair. The reservoir was dragged, and in less than an hour the body of a woman was brought to the surface. Several people of this city say they have frequently seen the woman, but no one seems to know her name or anything about her. Whether it was suicide or murder, the police are at a loss to say. What has become of the child who was with the woman is unknown.

IS KING INSANE?

His Wife and Friends Say His Stories Are Due to a Diseased Mind.

The wife and relatives of Mansfield King, the confessed murderer and bank rother now in fail at Clayton, are convinced that he is insane. Mrs. King has written a letter for publication, in which she states that when she married King he was a respected and industrious fellow, and she does not believe that he is guilty of the crimes with which he has charged himself. She says that his conduct has broken her heart and she hopes that death will soon put an end to her suffering. Mr. J. C. Leake of Mexico, Mo., with whom Mrs. King is now stopping, says that he regards King's stories as delusions of a diseased brain. In regard to the murder of Carter in Rails County, Mr. Leake says it is preposterous to suppose that king did it, as he was only is years of age at the time of Carter's disappearance. He does not think, either, that King ever had the nerve to do a job like the Denver bank robbery. King is now telling most sensational stories of his exploits with the James boys, and claims to have been at the Centralia massacre. This happened before he was born. is guilty of the crimes with which he has

The Jockey Club prize known as the French Derby was run yesterday at Chantilly. There were ten starters and Baron Rothchild's Heaume was made favorite at 5 to 4, the only the norme was made layorite atoke, the only other horses that were backed to any extent being P. Aumont's Mirabeau and Baron De-Shickler's Fitz-Roya. The three favorites had the race to themselves at the finish, the only dangerous outsider being Four Point, who was shaken off in the straight. Haune won by a length; Mirabeau, second; Fitz-Roya, third. There was a large and enthusiastic crowd present.

Harvard's Way of Celebrating.

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch.
Boston, Mass., June 2.—Hundreds of Harvard's students spent Saturday night with bonfires and trumpets celebrating their victories over Yale. That some exceeded these noisy demonstrations is certain, as Cambridge stands to day before evidences of the most contemptible vandalism to which students have within late years resorted. The fine statue of John Harvard is disfigured, perhaps beyond repair. The head of the figure was as some time Tuesday night painted a bright red. On three sides of the pedestal were lettered a bright red "H. Y." and the figures "9-8," representing the score by which Harvard won the ball game with Yale and the cup at Mott Haven. On the mosaic flooring of the steps leading to Memorial Hall was painted, "To Hades with Yale."

The doors of the entrance to the hall were painted red all over and above them showed the letters "H., 9; Y., 8." Appleton Chapeland Beylston Hall were treated in a like manner. Daubs of red paint met the eye at tories over Yale. That some exceeded these

At Omaha, yesterday, Umpire Leach was hit in the stomach by a batted ball and seriously injured. Could Not Spar. SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 2.—The police yesterday refused to allow Peter Jackson and Jack Ashton to spar two rounds in the Opera-house.

pion, for a stake of $3,000, which closed at San Francisco, was a rather ridiculous affair to everybody except McCleery and his backers. Schaefer was allowing the coast champion big odds, but it was no advantage to McCleery, as after the first night, when he ran up 15 'points, he never got a shot. It was old straight rail billiards and Schaefer made his 1,000 points the drat night after McCleery had scored fifteen and the two remaining nights McCleery merely atood by the table waiting for the wizard to play, as Schaefer run his necessary 1,000 each nighs without a hreak, leaving the balls in excellent position for a still further run when he closed the game with a score of $,001 to McCleery's 15. Schaefer atopped with a straight score of $,001 points, but he could as easily have made it $,000, as never once during the same did he show nervousness, and never did the balls scape his control. Last night he displayed greater akili than on the previous evening. When the 500 points had been reached atclieer, his opponent, who had only fifteen to his credit, threw up his hands and announced that Schaefer had beaten the world's best record—2,57 points, made by Harvey McRenns at Boston, in December, ISST. The speciators cheered, and Schaefer kept on adding point after point till 516 had been announced, when after point till 516 had been announced, when the balls "froze" and were "spotted." In three shots the "Wizard" had the ivories cornered again, but luck was against him and it took two more lying shots up the table to get the balls in the croper position. The feat was accomplished as quietly as if the cham-
